Known for their reliability and superior accuracy, Attendant products are ideal for your staff, offering friendly features and a smart, functional design.

Direct Supply Attendant – how do we deliver the ideal mix of quality and the features you need to provide superior resident care?

When it comes to resident safety and clinical accuracy, you can't compromise. Enter Direct Supply Attendant.

We design our products with the reliable technology your healthcare environment demands. Tried and true options that withstand the test of time, while incorporating the latest in technological advancements.

And since we only offer products for your unique Senior Living environment, we make sure to outfit our Attendant products with the features Senior Living communities need most, without the costly extras. Our models are less expensive and easier to use, allowing for faster staff training and adoption.

Plus, they're reliable and accurate, providing the important readings and information your staff needs to keep their #1 priority – your residents – safe at all times.

Why choose Attendant products?

- Simplified design for Senior Living
Our unique focus on Senior Living helps us understand how our Attendant products will be used in your community, and allows us to purposefully eliminate any unnecessarily complex features from the design. Intuitive interfaces, clearer readouts and no complicated training makes things easier for you and your staff.
- Senior Living reliability and accuracy
Rely on the accuracy and consistent performance of Attendant products over time – rest assured that these products will help you provide the superior quality of care your residents deserve.
- Priced for Senior Living affordability
Attendant products include the features you need – without the costly extras – to help ease the burden on your budget. Rest assured, with Attendant, you'll never have to compromise on quality, safety or usability – you can have it all, for less.
